

The Time for talk is over. Take Action Today

Sunday hunting will only become a reality if you take the time to write a letter to the legislature today. Don't wait for someone else to do it for you. Write that letter now.

There are 5 bills that relax or eliminate the prohibition on Sunday hunting. These bills are working their way through the legislative process as we speak. Sportsmen's groups testified on the technical aspects of these bills on Sept 18. Our leaders have done all they can without your help.

The committee needs to hear from hunters, sportsmen, parents and grandparents of youth hunters. We need your letter expressing the positive things that Sunday hunting would bring to our state. Nobody can make our case better than you. Write about appreciation for nature, spending time with family members and preventing drug abuse by spending time in the outdoors. Mention passing on our traditions and values to the next generation. Mention a positive role model in your life who was a hunter.

Your letter need not be long nor professionally written and it does not have to be typed. It should come straight from your heart. Don't demand anything. Do ask that the committee find common ground and work on a solution that will put us on a path where Sunday hunting will become a reality in this legislative session. The time has come for a letter from you, then and only then will the time come for hunting on Sunday in Massachusetts.
